

3rd Conference on Global Insurance Supervision

Fit for Global Thinking

September 9 – 10, 2014
Goethe University, Campus Westend
Frankfurt am Main, Germany

Top representatives from major (re)insurance groups, regulators and supervisors from around the globe and renowned academics will gather to debate the hot spots of international insurance supervision, focusing on global trends in risk-based supervision and the upcoming challenges in the implementation of global standards. You are invited to also discuss the regulatory aspects of doing business in emerging markets and the challenges supervision is facing nowadays, in which the consumer's voice plays a crucial role.

The International Center for Insurance Regulation (ICIR) and the European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority (EIOPA) are glad to invite you to this year's Conference on Global Insurance Supervision, which will take place for the third time in the "regulatory capital", Frankfurt / Main. We are glad to announce that this year's conference is jointly organized with the Center for the Study of Insurance Regulation, St. John's University and the World Bank to further promote the conference's global setting.

The GIS conference is expected to attract over 100 attendees for one and a half days of presentations, panel debates, break-out sessions and networking opportunities. We aim to provide a unique platform for the exchange of ideas and for discussions among supervisors, industry leaders and academicians on strategic regulatory issues in the insurance sector.

We are confident that this year's conference will build on the success of last year and will assist all in the public and private sector and in the academia to move forward to structuring a global insurance regulatory framework with a higher standard. We also offer all participants an excellent opportunity to network throughout the conference.
